

National Community Action Foundation

Need semi-skilled Labor and Enthusiasm?

National leaders of the Youth Conservation Corps network have been in touch with us about their desire to connect with state and local Weatherizers and be put to work on projects. The corps groups come with training and adult supervisors. Their cost may be less than other contractors, especially for lower-skilled tasks and for jobs that combine service, like energy education.

Referrals: Montana Weatherization used a corps workforce to implement a “neighborhood blitz approach to distributing kits and education. Fresno EOC has successfully involved the corps in its housing projects including Weatherization.

Your state has a corps chapter. Find out more through the national site:

<http://www.corpsnetwork.org/>